

My husband and I depend on the TV news to keep updated on the world's happenings, but we always fall behind because of the lack of closed captioning. Also, some educational programming aren't closed captioning and I find that puzzling because America focuses a lot on education, yet, they're preventing education from happening by not improving the closed captioning program. Thank you!